

Ashley Judd Stars in Return of "Berlin Station"

09.08.2017

Season two of Berlin Station opens in the thick of a new world order that has taken root and is steadily deepening. In the wake of the far right tide sweeping across continental Europe, Germany finds itself on the precipice of a pivotal election, according to the description from Epix.

Joining the spy drama this season are Ashley Judd (Twin Peaks, Insurgent) as BB Yakes, the new chief of station, and Keke Palmer (Scream Queens) as young case officer April Lewis.

The series stars Richard Armitage as undercover CIA agent Daniel Miller and cast members include Rhys Ifans as Hector Dejean, Richard Jenkins as Steven Frost, Leland Orser as Robert Kirsch and Michelle Forbes as Valerie Edwards.

Berlin Station is created and executive produced by Olen Steinhauer, author of fiction spy novels "The Tourist," "All The Old Knives," and "The Cairo Affair."

Bradford Winters (Dig, The Americans, Boss, Oz) serves as executive producer and showrunner. Eric Roth (Forrest Gump, The Curious Case of Benjamin Button, House of Cards) also executive produces along with Steve Golin, Kerry Kohansky-Roberts, Keith Redmon and Luke Rivett from Anonymous Content (True Detective, The Knick, Mr. Robot). The series is produced by Paramount Television and Anonymous Content.

Season two of Berlin Station premieres October 15 at 9 p.m.
